Second Century News

The Second Century Campaign set an ambitious fund-raising goal of $1.55 million. To meet this goal we calculated that we needed members of the congregation to commit a total of $500,000. We officially launched this campaign just three months ago and the members of Christ Church Lutheran have already pledged $428,850. That’s 85% of the congregation goal. Only $71,150 remains in the congregation’s part of the campaign.

If you have already pledged, thank you. If you are still considering a pledge, we look forward to hearing from you about your role in this campaign for the Second Century at Christ Church Lutheran. Talk to any member of the campaign task force: Mary Bode, Birgitte Christianson, Liz Gomoll, Roger Gomoll, Gerry Tyrrell, or Bob Victorin-Vangerud, Pastor Carlson.

Congratulations to John Buegel for fifty-five years of service to the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, including forty-two years at Concordia–Saint Paul.
From the May 19 Council Meeting

We opened with devotions. Colin Watkins played a song by a group called Five Iron Frenzy titled “All that Is Good.” We had a lively conversation about the lyrics, which led into some discussion of two articles that have been circulating among council members describing what members of the millennial generation are looking for from the church. According to these two authors, they want authenticity and mission.

The project management task force updated the council on current plans for the building projects in the Second Century Campaign. The good news is that we have reason to hope for more money from grants than we had originally anticipated. The task force has concluded that the church roof—both for the sanctuary and the education wing—will have to be replaced, an expensive project that originally didn’t figure prominently in the campaign. A beam in the boiler room also needs attention. The working schedule of projects is: 2015—work on the tower door and accessibility, 2016—replacement of the roof and repair of the roof parapet, 2017—courtyard and wood finishing in the sanctuary, 2018—boiler replacement. The task force also requested that the council approve $17,500 in architectural fees, which we did.

We discussed the impending need for another congregation meeting to approve payments for larger construction projects. We hope to address this vote together with consideration of a contract for a new organ. A few details need to be worked out before this meeting can be scheduled.

It is official that Rev. Helge Voigt and his family will arrive in August and that he will be based at Christ Church Lutheran for at least the first part of his year in the US. Details about housing are still under discussion. We voted to form a task force to plan a welcome for the Voigts.

Colin Watkins, treasurer, and Melody Pauling presented a report from MAP reviewing our books and making suggestions about our financial practices. MAP is an organization that offers various services to nonprofit organizations. We had contracted with them to review our finances. Colin and Melody will present a list of proposed changes based on these recommendations.

Pastor Haaland described an opportunity to enter into a contract for electricity sourced from solar energy that would save 8% in power costs. More information will be presented next month. We heard many reports from our pastors and from committees and task forces. Pastor Carlson reported that Pastors Farlee and Seltz will be receiving distinguished alumni awards from Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago (see page 6 for more information). The council voted to congratulate them and express our appreciation for their work at Christ Church Lutheran.

The children’s music task force plans to begin a music program in the fall and to link it with the Godly Play on Sunday mornings. The second century task force is winding up phase two of the campaign. There is much good work happening among us. We thank all of you for your support and your love for Christ’s church at Christ Church Lutheran.

Living in Community
Mission Series, Part 4

At the mission committee forum last fall, one of the areas lifted up was care and concern for the well-being of elders among us. As we listed areas of outreach that mattered to us, it became clear that we as a community have a passion for ensuring that our elders are honored and remembered.

In fact, the very word “remembered” is quite evocative in this context. To “re-member” someone is to do more than think about them. It has to do with forging connections and renewing each individual’s “membership” within a community. “Re-membering” is to be about the work of continually reconnecting each individual to the “body” that is our community. The church calls this community the body of Christ—and we are all in constant need of being “re-membered” by (and into) this community of grace.

This is especially the case for those who, because of age or illness, are not able to be physically present with us each Sunday when we gather. This is why the work of our eucharistic ministers is so vital. They bring the bread and wine from our Sunday morning gatherings to those who cannot be with us—connecting them in a powerful way to the on-going life of our community in Christ. Thank you to those who currently serve as eucharistic ministers. (As a side note, if this is a ministry that interests you, please contact the church office. Likewise, if you are aware of elders or others who might be added to our eucharistic ministry list, please let us know.)

Here at Christ Church there is also a passion for the well-being of the elders in our broader community. One of our longest-running neighborhood ministries is our participation in South Minneapolis Meals on Wheels. We have a wonderful cadre of volunteer drivers who deliver hot, nutritious meals to homebound residents in our neighborhood. As a congregation, we also financially support South Minneapolis Meals on Wheels. Cathy Sieving is the coordinator for our congregation, and she is always glad to talk to those who might be interested in becoming a driver. It’s very satisfying work to be able to serve our neighbors in this way.

Finally, I consider the intergenerational nature of our congregation to be one of its great gifts. Of course, we have wonderful ministries like that of the retirees, where our elders are able to gather for fellowship, learning, and conversation. Occasionally, our young adults and families with children gather together for activities as well. However, most everything we do as a congregation involves the whole community: young and old together. This is a great gift. One of my favorite Christ Church stories involves Prince, one of our children, telling his grandmother that he had to be in church each Sunday because Juanita, one of our dear elders, needed her weekly hug from him.

This, dear friends, is the body of Christ. And this is how we “re-member” each other.

—Pastor Haaland
On 17 June 2015 the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago will present the 2015 Distinguished Alumni/ae Awards to seven of its outstanding graduates. This year’s honorees exemplify courage, service, creativity, innovation, and leadership. Recipients of the 2015 awards are the Rev. Robert Buckley Farlee, the Rev. Tom Gaulke, Ms. Inge Lempp, the Rev. Dr. Craig Mueller, the Rev. Martin Seltz, the Rev. Dr. David Vásquez-Levy, and the Rev. Dr. James Wind. An awards ceremony begins at 5pm with a festive reception to follow.

“These seven individuals have made a witness to the gospel in many and various ways in the church and the world,” said James Nieman, LSTC president. “We give thanks to God for their many gifts and their wise leadership that inspires others to live faithful lives.”

About the 2015 Distinguished Alumni/ae
The Rev. Robert Buckley Farlee (Christ Seminary-Seminex, St. Louis, 1976, MDiv; Christ Seminary-Seminex, 1979, STM) worked as an editor to bring Evangelical Lutheran Worship into being, especially the musical portions of the worship book and many of the ancillary volumes. He is currently Senior Editor for Worship and Music at Augsburg Fortress and is a past president of the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians. His acclaimed book, Honoring Our Neighbor’s Faith, explores the doctrines and practices of thirty-two religious denominations in America. Farlee’s most lasting contribution will likely be his dozens of anthems and hymn tunes that have gained the love and attention of worshipers from many denominations. He also serves as cantor with Martin Seltz at Christ Church Lutheran in Minneapolis, assisting also in pastoral ministry with Kristine Carlson and Erik Haaland. He will receive a Specialized Ministry Award.

The Rev. Martin Seltz (Christ Seminary-Seminex, 1977, MDiv) served as publisher and principal editor for Evangelical Lutheran Worship, working in collaboration with ELCA churchwide worship staff and editorial teams. Seltz is currently Publisher for Worship, Music, and Congregational Life at Augsburg Fortress, where he has also guided
Our Zimbelstern

Listen closely. Do you hear the Zimbelstern? Do you know what a Zimbelstern is?

These delicate bells are heard ringing during final hymn stanzas with a doxology: praise to the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. They are also heard during the Sanctus: the singing of Holy, Holy, Holy in the great thanksgiving at holy communion. During the festive Easter season, they were chiming during the whole prayer of thanksgiving at the table. It was special. It was beautiful. Listen closely and you will hear the Zimbelstern.

Zimbelstern is a German word meaning “bell star.” On some organ installations, especially in Europe, the bells are visibly arranged around a star-shaped frame, creating both a visual and aural twinkling effect. Our Zimbelstern is behind the organ screen. If you wish, climb the balcony steps and look into the organ chamber to see these small bells that join our voices in praise and thanksgiving.

LSTC’s Annual Alumni Awards

Each year, LSTC’s Alumni Board invites nominations for the Distinguished Alumni Awards and chooses the most outstanding candidates to receive awards in several categories. A list of past recipients, which includes our own Dick Bruesehoff, can be found on LSTC’s website.
Molly Boes
Molly is a graduate of Saint Olaf College with a BA in music and a biomedical studies concentration. She completed her masters degree in creative arts in therapy at Drexel University in Philadelphia and is a board certified music therapist. Molly was born in South Dakota and grew up in Oklahoma but loves calling Saint Paul home—now considering herself a Minnesotan. She came to Christ Church for the music and was thrilled to receive a warm welcome and friendly greeting each Sunday.

Since 2011, Molly has been at Lutheran Music Program, where she is currently the admissions manager. Molly plays bassoon in the Linden Hills Chamber Orchestra and teaches Music Together classes to families at Ensemble Music studio in South Minneapolis. In her free time, Molly enjoys traveling to see family and friends, exploring the Twin Cities, local farmers markets, and new restaurants and baking (primarily desserts). She is excited about checking off a bucket list goal this summer by training for and completing her first triathlon.

Claire Rosenkvist
Claire began coming to Christ Church Lutheran in February when her mother, Lori, became a member and decided to make Christ Church Lutheran her new home after sixteen years of membership with Lutheran Church of Peace in Maplewood. She is grateful for the warm welcome she has received here and looks forward to being an engaged member of this church family.

Claire is a graduate of Saint Olaf College with a BA in English literature and art history. She loves supporting the performing arts and listening to music. She also enjoys reading, baking, painting, taking long walks, spending time in nature, practicing yoga and meditation, visiting museums, and participating in contemplative worship. Claire works in Saint Paul near the Capitol at a local union office. She and her partner Andrew live near the Cathedral with their cat Zasz.

Vanessa Rempel and Matthew Courtney
Vanessa was born and raised in Southern Manitoba and completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Manitoba. The promise of warmer weather drew Vanessa to North Dakota, where she completed graduate degrees in psychology.
With her increased tolerance for milder weather firmly established after six years in North Dakota, Vanessa decided to venture further south to the near-tropical climate of Minnesota (she is still acclimating nine years later). Vanessa is a licensed psychologist and is employed at a local eating disorder treatment program. She was previously employed at the University of Saint Thomas.

Matthew was born and raised in southern Minnesota. He completed undergraduate studies in philosophy at Hamline University and graduate studies in literature at Saint Cloud State University. Matthew works in grant administration for the City of Minneapolis. He previously served as grants director for the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe.

Married in 2008, Matthew and Vanessa moved into the Cooper neighborhood in 2011. They enjoy working on projects around their home and in their yard. They also enjoy reading, camping, hiking, and supporting local record stores.

Brook Collins and Nate Williams

Brook was raised by her mother and grandparents in Wayzata. Growing up she always had a passion for the arts and food. Later in life she combined these two loves to make her career in the culinary arts. She learned the craft by working as a fish monger, baker, butcher, chef de cuisine, street vendor, and caterer. In her free time she loves to read, watch movies, garden, and relax with her fiancé Nate.

Nate was born in Harrisburg, PA, to parents Garry and Patti and raised and educated in Mechanicsburg, PA. While in high school, Nate sought and received a private pilot’s license and discovered his love of flying. He left Pennsylvania for college at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks and graduated in 2007 with a BS in aeronautics. He taught at the University of North Dakota from 2005 until 2013, earning several instructional awards.

In 2013 Nate began serving his community by flying as a medevac pilot for Valley Med Flight based in Williston, ND. In 2014, he moved to Minneapolis to be with his fiancée and began flying for Encore Air Cargo. He is an air transport-rated pilot and is rated in several types of aircraft including seaplanes. His hobbies include flying, fishing, kayaking, hiking, waterfowl hunting, woodworking, and software design. Nate is currently a software engineer for Xirgo Technologies and lives in Minneapolis.
